Crisis Leadership Module Series

Are you ready to navigate your organization through rough seas?

OVERVIEW
We live in an uncertain world, full of impending risk, crisis and resulting chaos. The threats are many and it is during these most chaotic times that people look up to and seek good leadership. As the adage goes – ‘Crisis does not build character, it reveals it’.

Leaders are put to the test, watched, observed and judged on how they behave, respond and lead. With the global impact of COVID-19, the Asian Institute of Management presents “Crisis Leadership Module Series”, a program that will empower leaders with essential tips, best practices and overlooked strategies as they plan and enact a sound Leadership guide to combat these critical times.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES
- To scan, analyze and quickly assess the environment in times of crisis
- To determine who are the key stakeholders involved in crisis and learn how to engage them
- To critically analyze potential strategies needed for crisis and how to operationalize them more successfully
- To review and strengthen leadership communications to gain cooperation while also being mindful of the leadership brand

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN (Half-day Modules)
- Making Sense and Situational Assessment During a Crisis
  - Crisis is volatile and uncertain. Wrong problem and situational analysis will lead to making wrong decisions. Learning SAPADAPPA will help the participant in making sense of a crisis.
  - Importance of assessing fake news prevalent in the social media and debunking myths is an important tool for crisis leadership.
  - The 7C’s of a crisis leader [John Quelch]
- A Leader’s North Star: Examining One’s Personal Values
  - Pointers on how to exercise reflexivity when leading through a crisis
  - Learning how to identify anchor points when there is a sudden loss of meaning in crisis contexts
  - Learning how to identify and manage alignments and misalignments between personal and organizational values in a crisis situation
  - Exercising leadership from the top vs leadership from the base ranks: How to tap into value systems and transform them into actionable points for managing a crisis
  - Making your values work for the organization in crisis contexts
- Working Out Ethical Guidelines to Guide Organizational, Team and Individual Decision-Making
  - Leadership is not about having the right answers, in some cases, there is a crisis and a dilemma of decision making by the leader. What are ethical considerations when making such difficult decisions in choosing the least worst decision?
  - Using collaborative governance framework, how to ensure democratization of voice and priority.
  - Building resiliency in the organization starts with building reliability and consistency to values.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE
12, 14, 19, 21, 26 May 2020
Half-day modules starting at 2 PM – 6 PM per day

PROGRAM FORMAT
The program will be conducted online with live virtual interactive modules to be implemented via Zoom Video Conferencing.
Strong internet connection is recommended, with a speed of at least 10 Mbps.

YOUR PROGRAM FACULTY
Prof. Kenneth Y. Hartigan-Go
Head, Zueilig School of Development Management
Asian Institute of Management

Dr. Eula Blanca Villar
Adjunct Professor
Asian Institute of Management

Prof. Harini Chari
Clinical Professor
Asian Institute of Management

We have limited seats for this program. To find out how you can participate, visit https://go.aim.edu/crisisleadershipmoduleseries or contact us at SEELL@aim.edu

FOR INQUIRIES:
School of Executive Education and Lifelong Learning, Asian Institute of Management
Eugenio Lopez Foundation Building, Joseph R. McMicking Campus
123 Paseo de Roxas, Makati City Philippines 1229
SEELL@aim.edu | +632 8892 4011 | www.aim.edu
• Managing Continuity: Rapid Development, Implementation, and Appraisal of Business Continuity Plan
  o Learning key elements that make BCPs tailor-fitted to organizational needs
  o Appreciating BCP as a living document, and learning how it may be cascaded, interpreted, and acted on by leaders at various levels of the organization
  o Learning the limits of the BCP in novel contexts and quickly appraising when and how to improvise

• Managing Crisis Communications for Positive and Constructive Response and embracing the leadership personal brand while leveraging the same to manage and effectively respond to the current crisis
  o Leadership Brand Communications
    ➢ Expectations of the leader during a crisis
    ➢ Time to reconsider key leadership traits/skills/styles?
    ➢ The What’s and How’s of creating Trust?
    ➢ Demonstrating the Leadership Brand during a crisis - Reputation Management ➢ Setting the stage for what’s to come
  o Crisis Comms Plan
    ➢ Proactive strategy for a reactive/responsive plan
    ➢ Building a crisis communications plan
    ➢ Crisis Storytelling
    ➢ Leveraging Social Media
    ➢ Managing the communications in a changing crisis

KEY BENEFITS
• Understand the complexity of a crisis and the need for leadership
• Recognize that effective leadership entails dedication, sacrifice and an examination of personal values
• Rapidly design, enforce and propagate policies under the time pressure of extreme crisis situations
• Ensure adaptability and flexibility upon actual implementation of action plans
• Apply quick risk-benefit decision-making
• Construct and roll out a 360-degree crisis communications plan that includes diverse audiences, platforms and storytelling strategies
• Understand how to be your best during the worst - leverage your brand values and leadership style to authentically connect with your audience

WHO SHOULD ATTEND
This program is designed for organizational and community leaders who are spearheading crisis management initiatives within their organization and communities.
Your Program Faculty

Prof. Kenneth Y. Hartigan-Go
Dr. Kenneth Hartigan-Go is Head of the Zuellig School of Development Management. Dr. Hartigan-Go was formerly an Undersecretary at the Philippine Department of Health, and his portfolio covered health regulations, health and trade, private public partnership, supply chain management, and innovations.

Previously, his government posts also included being the Director General for Food and Drugs Administration (October 2012 - October 2014); Deputy Director of the Bureau of Food and Drugs (1999-2001); and Manager of the Philippine National Drug Policy program. He was the founding Executive Director of the Zuellig Foundation from 2001 to 2009. From 2013-2016, he actively advised the Chair of the APEC’s Life Science Innovation Forum (LSIF) executive board and was a substantive lead for APEC matters on LSIF, Health Working Group, and the SME working group.

Dr. Eula Bianca Villar
Dr. Eula Bianca Villar is an adjunct professor at the Asian Institute of Management. Her thematic expertise is centered on organizations that navigate disaster and crisis contexts. She holds a PhD [Cum Laude] from La Salle - Universitat Ramon Llull University in Barcelona, Spain and was awarded a European Union Marie Curie Fellowship. She has taught at the graduate and undergraduate levels in De La Salle University College of Business, Silliman University - School of Public Affairs and Governance, and La Salle - Universitat Ramon Llull Department of Business and Technology. She has worked with international NGOs and small businesses as a research consultant on how to navigate and foster innovation and resilience in crisis contexts. She has also authored academic and non-academic articles on organizational resilience, sustainability, and disaster management. She is deeply driven in pursuing research and educational themes related to organizing processes in disaster contexts, innovation in the humanitarian space, and sustainable entrepreneurship.

Prof. Harini Chari
Prof. Harini Chari is a brand and communications strategist by education and a people developer by passion. She energizes and aligns brands of leaders, professionals and entrepreneurs such that they connect the dots and present themselves in a compelling manner on paper, online and offline. With two decades of experience across Asia, US and Europe, Harini has led the brand strategy for organizations such as Amcham- Finland, National Council of Social Service- Singapore and strategic planning for brands like L’Oreal, Nestle and Tiffany’s at McCann Erickson. She is a career brand coach and change consultant at Lee Hecht Harrison, Singapore. Harini has featured in both, Singapore & Swedish television news channels. Harini has a master’s in advertising from Michigan State University and is a REACH (Pioneer Institute in Personal Branding, USA) certified Personal Branding, 360-degree branding strategist.